COMBAT STRATEGY
Human Shield Interception:Stand within 5 feet of an ally. If they get hit, use your REACTION to reduce the damage by (1d10+2) often means an ally takes ZERO damage (at 1st lvl) from a hit that would have otherwise knocked them out.
Stone Camouflage Even though Hara wears heavy armor and has Stealth disadvantage, her Deep Gnome heritage gives her Advantage in rocky terrain; use a normal roll for Stealth (Advantage and Disadvantage cancel out). This allows Hara to actually participate in ambushes rather than clanking loudly and giving the party away.

Pick and Grind Your +2 Strength is a reliable weapon to engage the toughest enemy in melee. With 16 AC, she is very hard to hit for a level 1 fighter. Challenging to the main opponent frees up allies to flank their their special attacks.

Second Wind Management: Use Second Wind as soon as you drop below 6 HP. As the party's primary tank, if you go down, your backline will likely go also. You are the rock keeping the party from being overrun.
